

Tómas García Azcárate

Short Term Market Economy Adviser, DG AGRI; In the Commission since 1986; Director of GRASPE, Professor at the Solvay Business School

I believe that the Unions make really sense if they are close to the colleagues all year around. This is why I have been one of the promoters of U4U AGRI, a dynamic group which try to be useful, anticipating concrete difficulties such as the new office policies, supporting (and criticising) our hierarchy as much and as soon as needed.

In addition U4U is the only Union which tries to develop a global thinking on how we, European civil servants, work; on why we work and how to genuinely contribute to an Europe closer to citizens' concerns.