I joined the European Commission at the end of 2009 and have been working in DG RTD initially on Strategic Planning and Programming, and currently in the Personalised Medicine Unit.

I am a father of 2 kids and doing my best to succeed on both professional and familial life.

I am candidate because I believe that we all should contribute to improving the European public service, in the interest of the European citizens. I am convinced that our pool of skills could be better used, and that a strong, united staff representation could help achieving this.

My priorities will be:

- 1- to support U4U and R&D values and proposed actions,
- 2- to promote a participative and motivating management,
- 3- to improve EU staff working/employment conditions.
