

Alexandru COSTESCU

I work as a scientific officer for health research in DG Research & Innovation, and have followed U4U since 2011. I appreciate the quality of the intellectual debate at U4U, resulting in approaches and solutions that are credible, constructive, effective and have the European project at heart.

I am in favor of a strong EU public service, acting with a long-term vision of the European integration project, in line with the progress made by the peoples of Europe over more than a half century.

I support the U4U approach for joint action, for a participatory management, for an optimal use of the excellent human resources employed by the European public service.

My priorities will be to promote a modern and creative working environment that will release the talents and energies of EU staff, offering best practices and results as needed and expected by the European citizens.
