

Anna POSLUSZNA

Short resume : I am a Polish national who started her career in the European Aviation Safety Agency in Cologne, Germany before joining DG GROW (formerly ENTR) in 2009.

I would like to work in a place that allows personal development and provides job satisfaction. That is why I'm going to defend a strong, competent and independent European public service.

I believe in a modern human resources management based on trust, development of talents and individual career follow up.

As a mother of two I also place the balance between work and private life very highly. We need to continue to modernize and adapt our way of working in the Commission.

And only a structured and active social dialogue like the one proposed by U4U can make a difference.
