I am Deputy Head of Unit for research in social sciences and the humanities in DG RTD in the SDME building.

I am fully behind the current U4U/R&D approach for joint action. Such joint action is necessary at a time when the European Civil Service is more and more criticised

My first priority is to refuse the current anti-European civil service plans among member States and favour a rational debate on the future of the European Civil Service.

My second priority is to help colleagues at local level in DG RTD make sense of their work and have a good working environment
